

VALENTINA GECHA

BERUFLICHER WERDEGANG

---

Valentina Gecha is an international educator and prevention strategist working at the intersection of early childhood development, myofunctional health and interdisciplinary professional education. She is the Chief Operating Officer of the International Institute for OrthoPostural Education (IIOPE, Australia) and a PhD researcher focused on interdisciplinary competence development in healthcare and education.

With extensive experience in international professional training and preventive health initiatives, Valentina works with multidisciplinary teams across dentistry, speech therapy, ENT, pediatrics, and education. Her work focuses on early childhood as a critical window for prevention and explores the relationship between breathing, oral function, posture, movement, and behaviour in child development, with particular emphasis on prevention before symptoms appear.